Dear Parents

Last year we made a display in school to celebrate how much our children read both in school and at home. We called this 'Catch Yourself Reading'. The display was very successful and it would be fantastic to extend this further and continue the fun of guessing where the children have been 'caught reading'. I would like you to send photos of your child reading outside of school over the next week. It could be a snapshot of them reading at home, on a picnic or even on holiday or day trips.

Can I please ask that all photos are handed into teachers by Friday 10th November or emailed to postbox@pinfold-st.walsall.sch.uk, putting Catch Yourself Reading in the subject line.

Thanks for your support.
